*"I am responsible. When anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help,
I want the hand of A.A. always to be there. And for that: I am responsible."*

Abracadabra!

Charles M shared an experience that still resonates with me to this day. He talked about noticing a dead bug in his yard and watching ants congregating around the insect that was exponentially larger than the ants. As the ants tried to get their act together, the dead insect move slightly... first to the right, then to the left, then it tilted a little and moved back to center. My friend lost interest and went to do something else. When he came back to the spot a short while later, the dead insect had disappeared. Poof!!! Abracadabra - here one minute, gone the next. The lesson was not lost on my friend. Here was the power of a group of unified beings that together were able to carry off an insect 1,000 times their size. They had a rough start, but unity worked to get the job done.

This explains why AA works so well. The same unity that helped a suffering alcoholic who stumbled into a meeting of recovered alcoholics in 1937 is the same unity that helps every newcomer who walks into the door of AA in 2011. We have a big dead bug called alcoholism that none of us can dispose of by ourselves. Alcoholism always crushes even the strongest, smartest most gifted people on earth. But put a group of recovered and recovering alcoholics together and...poof! Abracadabra - here one minute, gone the next.

There is even a deeper undertone to this message. Simply this - that I can't do this deal by myself. I have to learn not only to reach out when I need help. I also have to learn to lend my experience, strength and hope to help the fellowship get the job done. Whether it's volunteering to take meetings to the jail, joining the phone army or 12-steppers, or helping Intergroup move to its new location, it all gets done when we do it together. No matter how big the job, put a group of unified alcoholics together and poof! Like magic, the job gets done. What does this have to do with sobriety you ask? Everything. Everything.

History in the Making

Be a part of history, volunteer to help Intergroup move to its new home.

The target date for the first day of business at our new home is Monday, September 19th. The move will be stretched out over a couple of weeks beginning Friday September 1.

If you can help in anyway, please call Intergroup with your name and number.

We will call in advance when we think a section will be ready (Archives, Back Room, etc.) to see if you might be available to help with the move related to that section.

Our goal is to minimize the chaos that a move this size can bring on and eliminate as much stress as we can.

There will be some “clean up” activity back at the old place following the essential move, so anytime you are available during the month of September would be greatly appreciated.

Mike D., Intergroup Office Coordinator

A maximum of 70 flyers should be dropped off at Intergroup by the 15th of the month in order to be included in monthly High 'n Dry packets that are distributed to groups in the five districts. Groups or Districts must provide copies (Intergroup does not have the resources or man power to make copies on behalf of any group or district).

Email must be sent to High 'n Dry editor at editor@aadaytona.org by the 15th of the previous month to be listed in the newsletter Calendar of Events.

"Bumper Sticker" Sobriety

We teach people how to treat us.

Isolation is a darkroom for developing negatives.

You can pretend to care, but you can't pretend to show up.

Experience, Strength, and Hope

A Link in the Chain

Nobody is a whole chain. Each one is a link. But take away one link and the chain is broken. Nobody is a whole team. Each one is a player. But take away one player and the game is forfeited. Nobody is a whole orchestra. Each one is a musician. But take away one musician and the symphony is incomplete. You need someone and someone needs you. Isolated islands, we're not. To make this thing called sobriety work, we need to lean and support. Relate and respond. Give and take. Confess and forgive. Reach out and embrace. Release and rely. Unity ensures our survival so love and acceptance are not optional. Neither is tolerance, understanding, or patience. All those things you need from others when your humanity crowds out your spirituality. Anonymous

The A.A. Tradition

The Ninth Tradition

AA, as such, ought never be organized; but we may create service boards or committees directly responsible to those they serve.

This tradition gives us guidelines (not rules) for conducting meetings and service activities. First of all, no one is considered the CEO or boss in charge – we are a fellowship of equals. We keep our structures simple and rotate responsibilities. We are all trusted servants with a common goal to serve – every act of service is an act of love. The more members involved, the better the meeting. In my personal relationships, we set mutually agreed upon guidelines for acceptable conduct – no one gives orders or expects obedience.

The Best Friends

When I was a newcomer, I was told “dry people, dry places”. I was willing to give up drinking, but I wasn't so sure about giving up my pals. As I pondered this dilemma, my sponsor stopped my “committee” dead in its tracks: “If these people were really your friends, wouldn't they want the best for you?”

Wow! What a concept!!! I didn't know the answer because I never thought about it that way. I tested my “friends” and it was a sad experiment. I heard stuff like, “You're not that bad, look at me!”, “Don't worry, I'll cut you off when I think you've had enough”, “No big deal... I got us a designated driver”. Only two of them said, “I'm glad you're doing this. I just want you to be okay”. The rest failed the test. Over time, it wasn't hard to avoid my old drinking buddies. Besides, they didn't like hanging out with me either that much any more.

It was in AA that I learned what true friendship means. After twelve years in sobriety, my best and healthiest relationships are with the friends I have in the program. They look out for me every time and they're always glad to see me. They don't lie to me and they don't let me lie to myself. Most important, they want me to stay sober above everything.

THE JOKE'S ON US

A husband and wife are shopping in their local Wal-Mart. The husband picks up a case of Budweiser and puts it in their cart.

'What do you think you're doing?' asks the wife.

'They're on sale, only $10 for 24 cans' he replies.

'Put them back, we can't afford them' demands the wife, and so they carry on shopping. A few aisles further on along the woman picks up a $20 jar of face cream and puts it in the basket.

'What do you think you're doing?' asks the husband.

'It's my face cream. It makes me look beautiful,' replies the wife. Her husband retorts: 'So does 24 cans of Budweiser and it's half the price.'

Committees, Coordinators and Intergroup Updates

Phone Army Coordinator by Mark C: There were 35 calls in July 2011: 32 calls for information; 3 help calls; one was referred to Stewart Marchman and 12-Steppers responded to two other help calls. Phone Army volunteers, please send in your log sheets to Intergroup via fax, mail or email for inclusion in the monthly report.

12 Step Coordinator by Jan M: I am doing the quarterly update of the 12 Step list this month. Now would be a great time for all those interested in 12 Step work to get involved. 12 Step Volunteers are needed at all times and in all areas of Volusia County. Contact Jan M. at (386) 847-7154 or call Intergroup. Applications are also available online at www.aadaytona.org.

Archives Committee by Carolyn C: We received a lot of favorable comments about our Archives display at the Florida State AA Convention. Rick C. donated a picture of Duke D. having dinner with Sandy B. and a friend. Hazelton has requested permission to look through our unique collection of Rich Walker papers. They are planning to publish a new edition of the Twenty-four Hours a Day book and are researching material for the introduction to the new edition.

High 'n Dry Editor: The October 2011 issue will be available for pickup on September 30th.

Office Coordinator Report by Mike D: 136 calls, 213 visits to Intergroup during July 2011. Four help calls were received. Two calls for help for other people were given phone numbers to call. A caller from a hospital could not provide a phone number. Another call for help had an inaccurate number so 12-Steppers could not call them back.

Words of Wisdom

“Before AA it didn't matter how good things got -- I always had a feeling that something was wrong. Since AA, it doesn't matter how bad things get -- I always have a feeling that everything is going to be all right.”
